Dan and Esther are both MKs: Dan grew up in Senegal, West Africa, and Esther in Rwanda, East Africa. Dan's parents were pioneers among the Muslim people of Senegal, evangelizing through literature distribution, Bible studies, films, and apologetics especially designed for Muslims.

Dan is a graduate of Wheaton College and Denver Seminary. Esther is also a graduate of Wheaton College, and also received a B.S. in Nursing at Northern Illinois University.

While in the U.S., they were both used extensively in their local church and college in various capacities.

Dan is now WorldVenture-Senegal field leader and spends much of his time and energy multiplying his impact through colleagues' ministries. He is still involved with ITES (the Institute of Evangelical Theology of Senegal, formerly known as IED) as chairman of its board of directors. Dan and Esther both are continuing their efforts at friendship evangelism of Muslims in their neighborhood. Pray especially for Mbotch, the local imam with whom they are developing a friendship.

They have four sons, Joel, Luke, Caleb and Zachary.

Randall began supporting them in February of 1999.
